Commissioner:

Applicant respectfully asserts that the claims in the present application are patentable based on the combinations of all elements recited therein and not on any particular limitation that the Examiner had called out in the Examiner's Statement of Reason for Allowance. See, e.g., Salazar v. Procter & Gamble Company, 414 F.3d 1342 (Fed. Cir. 2005). Accordingly, to the extent that the Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance omits claim limitations, including limitations recited in dependent claims, Applicant respectfully disagrees with the Examiner's Statement. Applicant also notes that features recited in the Examiner's Statement as comprising the claimed invention are not included in every claim. Applicant emphasizes that for any particular claim only those limitations expressly recited in such claim are relevant to the reasons for its allowability. In addition, to the extent that the Examiner's paraphrasing of the subject matter of the claims differs from the language of the claims, Applicant respectfully disagrees with the reasons for allowance.

Appln No. 10/590,462

Respectfully submitted,
